

ORGAN & CO. QUIT NUMP OF RIG BANKS

George F. Baker, Great Firer, Announces He Will Follow Example

Indicates Intention of Big Business to Conform to Public Sentiment

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The withdrawal of J. P. Morgan & Co. from a word of great corporate and, the statement by George Baker, an almost equally dominant figure in American finance, that he would take similar action, gave the street a thrill which almost brought trading in the stock exchange to a halt.

It is probably true that many of the prominent bankers had been foreboding this momentous move toward ending interlocking directorates and the public and brokers had advanced knowledge of what was going on in the inner councils of the greatest of all American houses of finance. Wherever the telephone and the press flashed the news about the groups of men gathered to discuss what was the all-absorbing topic, Morgan, departing from his traditional policy of silence, made a statement announcing the withdrawal of five members of J. P. Morgan & Co. from directorships in 22 corporations and the intention to withdraw from more.

Baker to Withdraw. Mr. Baker announced his intention to withdraw in response to a question whether he intended to follow the example of the "organ firm," as follows: "I intend to get out as a director of the companies that will let me." "As a matter of fact, I have been a beginning to do so for the past year."

Forebodings General Action. It was predicted, nevertheless, by a man in Wall street, who has followed trend of events in finance and politics in recent times, that the day's events were prophetic of the ending of the system of interlocking directorates, which has been bitterly attacked by members of the present Washington administration and members of congress, who have been fighting.

NEBRASKA CAN TAKE WATER FROM COLO.

Priority of Filing and Not State Lines Recognized by Federal Court

DENVER, Jan. 3.—The state of Colorado's ownership of the water within its boundaries does not permit it to refuse to allow water to be carried across state lines, according to a ruling by Federal Judge R. E. Lewis today, refusing to dismiss the case of Pioneer Irrigation company against Attorney General Frazar contending that the state could not be compelled to submit the question to the jurisdiction of the federal court and asked settlement under the eleventh amendment, contending, therefore, that Attorney E. H. Park, representing the Pioneer company, could not maintain a suit against Colorado state officials.

Obviates State Line. The suit of the Pioneer company seeks to force the Colorado state officials to give title to and permit 77 miles of water to cross into Nebraska, claiming the Pioneer company had priority, not state lines, governed by the ruling of Judge Lewis obviates state lines and will have an important bearing on the suit brought by Wyoming against Colorado and by Nebraska against Wyoming. It is also expected to add Colorado farmers in the Poudre valley because it has been established they have a priority of filing against the Wyoming litigation which are seeking to prevent Colorado from using waters of the Larimer river until they have been supplied. It is probable that the state of Colorado will not proceed with the Pioneer suit but carry the controversy to the United States supreme court for final settlement of all issues.

OJINAGA BATTLE STILL INDECISIVE

Fighting Continues at Nuevo Laredo; Horrible Atrocities Committed

PRESIDIO, Tex., Jan. 2.—After driving a ramping cannon fire into the federal army at Ojinaga, Mexico, for four days, General Ortega's rebel army today fell back, it was reported on the American side, to await the arrival of more ammunition. The ammunition is on the way from Chihuahua.

The almost impregnable position of the 4,000 federal, entrenched in the heights of the village from which they command a sweeping range on the advancing rebels, enabled them to hold out against superior numbers. Each time the rebels charged they were compelled to fall back. Though they were flanked on three sides and the United States border patrol prepared for a possible retreat of their whole army to American territory, the federal fought persistently.

Draw Out Federal Fire. It appeared that General Ortega's rebels were drawing the federal fire merely to exhaust it. The plan of digging out the federal force by skirmishing would be in line with the usual guerrilla tactics of the rebels, who seldom make aggressive charges. So far the losses have been heaviest on the rebel side, due to the federal's superior range. Federal deserters reported that they had fewer than 100 killed, with an unknown number of wounded, while the rebel losses were expected that number. No American were permitted to cross the river and anything like an accurate estimate was lacking.

Few federal deserters attempted to reach the American side today. The wounded were cared for by the Red Cross. Dr. C. F. Braden, the Red Cross agent, reported that he had 60 wounded in the mission church. He telegraphed to El Paso that he thought the present medical force was sufficient.

Major McNamee's Report. Major McNamee tonight sent a report by telegraph as follows: "Situation unchanged. Intense fighting day and night by artillery and small arms. Very little progress made."

U. S. CAN'T AVOID INTERVENTION IN MEXICO—SPECTATOR

English Newspaper Predicts Serious Consequences to Present Conflict

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The Spectator, in an article today on the Mexican situation, declares that the pressure of public opinion in all the rest of the world soon will force the United States to intervene in Mexico. The article points out that President Wilson made a mistake in not assuming that President Huerta would be the strongest force with which to bring about peace in Mexico, and in supporting him accordingly, but it adds that it understands perfectly the reasons why Mr. Wilson did not adopt such a course.

"Instead," the article says, "he did what, with all the advice we must say, was the worst thing he could have done. He intervened and pretended not to be intervening, he deprecated bloodshed and anarchy and yet he would neither stop it himself nor let anyone else do so. The only way left for the United States is for themselves to restore order in Mexico."

SUFFRAGISTS LAUNCH NATIONAL CAMPAIGN

Will Oppose All Candidates Who Are Not in Favor of Their Cause

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Inspired by the "hike" of their New York colleagues, who, headed by "General" Roanoke Jones, are advancing on Albany to impress upon the legislators the necessity of a suffrage amendment, members of the congressional union here today began plans for a similar move upon Annapolis, the Maryland capital.

The "invaders" it was announced, will go to Baltimore next week, where the suffragists are to concentrate and, with their numbers strengthened by the Maryland forces, will march to the state capital.

It was also announced that when congress reconvenes the members of the Congressional union will undertake an active campaign in support of the proposed federal suffrage amendment.

Mrs. Medill McCormick, chairman of the congressional committee of the National Woman's Suffrage association, asserted tonight that, beginning next week, preparations for the 1914 campaign would be undertaken. It is proposed that, through the existing state organizations, the women throughout the country will be marshaled for work in all of the congressional districts. All candidates for congress, as well as present members, who do not stand for the suffrage amendment to the constitution will be opposed by the association in the primaries and elections.

GOVT. ORDERS PROBE MOYER DEPORTATION

Peace Negotiations in Strike Districts Held and Waver as to Confer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The department of justice today ordered an investigation of the recent deportation of Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, from the Calumet copper mining district. Senator Martine of New Jersey has held that this incident was a forcible abduction instigated, prompted and paid for by the mine owners.

The department dispatched Edward J. Bowman, assistant to the district attorneys at Grand Rapids, Mich., to make investigation into the affair.

Peace Negotiations Held. Houghton, Mich., Jan. 2.—Peace negotiations in the coal strike situation halted and wavered today, following reports of an important communication from John J. Danmore of the government department of labor and representatives of the conflicting interests. Mr. Danmore tonight said he still had hopes of a way out of the difficulty, and that his hopes were high.

The solicitor of the department of labor talked with C. J. Hill, representing the Western Federation of Miners, and Charles H. Taylor, head of the Michigan state federation, and then conferred with William Knox, general superintendent of the Allan Rees, attorney for the mine owners.

Arrived in the afternoon, C. W. Franklin of Washington and James R. Roach of Albany, N. Y., both officials of the American Federation of Labor. They told interviewers that they were sent (Continued on Page Two)

WATER SYSTEM BRINGS IN $173,049.43 DURING YEAR

Annual Report of Water Commissioner W. R. Allen Filed Yesterday Shows Increase Over 1912

According to the annual financial report of Water Commissioner W. R. Allen, filed at noon yesterday, the receipts of the Colorado Springs water department for 1913 were larger than in 1912. There is little difference in the two totals. During 1913 $173,049.43 was taken in, while in 1912 the amount was $171,212.18.

The various items from which money was received are as follows: Flat rate water, $138,354.28, meter rate, $37,026.15, building permits, $327.75, miscellaneous, $3,427.27, penalties, $91, tapping permits, $533.95. July was the heaviest month of the year, the amount for that month being $18,537.43.

During the last year the amount taken in for building permits (tapping and from other miscellaneous sources) were much smaller than during the preceding year. Assessments for building permits are made on account of water used in construction work.

PRES. WILSON AND JOHN LIND CONFER

Result of Meeting Not Made Public; Correspondents Are Outwitted

PASS CHRISTIAN, Miss Jan. 2.—President Wilson and John Lind, national representative in Mexico, tonight sat for some time in the cabin of the scout cruiser Chester, deeply absorbed in a discussion of the Mexican situation.

It was their first meeting since last July, when the president conferred with Mr. Lind at the White house preparatory to the latter's departure for Mexico City with instructions that created a diplomatic episode in American history.

For two days a mysterious reticence has been apparent at the presidential cottage concerning the present conference. When dispatches from Vera Cruz announced that Mr. Lind would come to Pass Christian there was a noticeable manifestation of displeasure among the members of the president's party that his destination should have been made public.

President Wilson had hoped to slip quietly away aboard the revenue cutter Winona for a yachting trip and meet Mr. Lind at sea.

President Meets Envoy. The same effort at secrecy with respect to the Chester's whereabouts was frustrated by wireless news of her location near Ship Island last night. For nearly 24 hours Mr. Lind was off shore on the cruiser Chester before meeting the president and instead of permitting his envoy to come ashore, President Wilson took a trip in a 20-foot launch, mounted a companionway to the revenue cutter Winona and was transhipped again in mid Gulf to the Chester.

The conference lasted until after 3 o'clock tonight, when the president returned to Gulfport where automobiles were ready to take him to Pass Christian. Just as much secrecy as characterizing the president's first meeting with Mr. Lind was evident on this occasion.

WHERE IS LOPEZ? MINE IS SILENT

Posses Search Tunnels, but Fail to Discover Tangible Clue

BINGHAM, Utah, Jan. 2.—Still unanswered tonight was the question as to the fate of Ruffin Lopez, for whom search was resumed in the Utah mine. Before the portals were sealed on December 19 miners found baskets filled with poisoned food were left where the desperado might find them. They were recovered untouched.

Determined to solve the secret of its maze of passages, as soon as possible a fresh posse was sent to the workings tonight. The searchers, who will keep the secret until every foot has been explored, unless the slayer of six miners is discovered dead or alive before then.

"LID" CLAMPED ON BY WOMAN

OREGON TOWN IS UNDER MARTIAL LAW

COPPERFILL, Ore., Jan. 2.—Martial law was declared here today by U. S. Marshal B. K. Lawton, superintendent of the state penitentiary. Five members of the coast artillery backed up the proclamation.

This action followed a demand made by Miss Fern Hobbs, private secretary to Governor West for the resignation of members of the city council and other city officials who are accused of violating an ordinance regulating saloons. When her demand was refused, the governor's representative ordered Colonel Lawton to place the town under martial law. Then she boarded a train to return to the state capital.

Colonel Lawton's small force began operations by raiding the saloons of which they took charge. The proprietors were given until 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to ship their fixtures and liquors out of the county on penalty of confiscation. All of the city officials were placed under arrest, and were held "incommunicado," not being permitted to communicate with attorneys.

Officials Refuse to Comply. Governor West received two weeks ago a protest signed by more than half the residents of Copperfill against alleged law violations by saloons here. One of which was owned by the mayor and another by a councilman. It was charged that liquor was being sold to minors and that closing hours were not observed.

The governor called upon Mayor Stewart to close the saloons, and he refused. When Sheriff Rand also refused to act, Governor West ordered Hobbs to take charge of the situation.

Automobile Bandits Kidnap Business Men and Take Their Money

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 2.—Automobile bandits tonight kidnaped two business men who were on their way home, robbed them and rode them about the city for two hours before dumping them unceremoniously into the street.

They were given 10 cents apiece for a night's ride. The victims are Charles E. Sweeney, president of a brewing company, and James A. Weldon, president of a plumbing concern. Sweeney was seized by two masked men who had alighted from a taxi cab, folded and thrown into the car. He was robbed of $50 and his jewelry.

Half an hour after the attack on Sweeney, Weldon was seized while approaching his home blindfolded and tied with straps. He was relieved of $50 and his jewelry.

A third man, J. D. Scottdale, a chauffeur, also was robbed. He told the police he had answered a call and while waiting at a street corner was blindfolded and thrown into the car. Six dollars was taken from him. Police men found the abandoned taxicab two miles from where it was seen last night by the victims.

U. S. Chamber of Commerce Issues Statement on Conditions of Country

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—"Any general statement as to conditions of manufacturing throughout the United States would, at present, be both misleading and inaccurate, since the condition varies according to the location and nature of the product," a statement issued tonight by the chamber of commerce of the United States. The statement was compiled by the department of statistics on reports of one day, Monday, January 27, 1913, which were taken to be fairly representative.

"The textile industry is adjusting itself to changed conditions resulting from decreased tariff rates," continues the report, "but the effect so far does not justify previous apprehensions. The paper manufacturing business is below normal, while steel manufacturing is good, with prospects of an advance in prices. This is true, likewise, of the leather tanning industry. A menu-facturing concern intimately with the railroad and with the steel and iron industries is necessarily feeling the depression of these two great branches of business."

Reason for High Prices. "The great increase in the population of this country and consequent increase in the demand for most products, its effect on the number of cattle in the number of cattle and sheep, but it has brought about the present high prices of meat."

A careful study of the facts now ever indicates that this is one of those economic problems that is likely to solve itself and that the number of cattle in their relation to the number of inhabitants move rather in a series of cycles than in a straight line.

For instance, the number of cattle for 100 of population is the same now as it was in 1870 and 1900, but we are evidently facing a great change in the cattle raising industry.

Relief Bound to Come. "An impartial survey, therefore, of the situation seems to warrant the statement that while the price of cattle probably will continue high, the various agencies mentioned will gradually work for a more abundant supply and a more reasonable price."

PIRATE TRIES TO ROB STEAMER ON PACIFIC

Overpowered by Captain and Brought Into Port a Prisoner in Chains

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 2.—A sea rover and pirate tried to rob the steamer Andrew B. Nelson, a master mariner and one-time owner of the schooner Hona, was today brought into port by the steam tugboat, the Westerner, and landed at the city hall. The pirate, a man of about 30 years of age, was dressed in a light-colored suit and a white shirt. He was brought in by a party of men who were on board the tugboat. The pirate was taken to the city hall and is now being held in a cell. He is being held in a cell and is being held in a cell.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The proposal of Secretary Lane to withdraw all lands of the public domain believed to contain radium in the last act of public good with the hearty approval of Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the U. S. geological survey.

"Secretary Lane's proposal for legislation," says Dr. Smith, in a statement issued today, "is a recognition that radium has become one of the mineral resources whose real value is not measured by its rarity but by its vital usefulness to mankind."

"Legislation is needed to stop the alienation of the deposits still in public ownership and in the case of radium ores, public operation may be the logical move if America is to have first claim on the benefit of its own resources."

Dr. Smith states that the survey is prepared to recommend tracts for withdrawal.

NIXON GETS MUNICIPAL OFFICE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Lewis Nixon, naval architect, ship builder and the successor of Richard Croker, as leader of Tammany hall, will be commissioner of public works in the borough of Richmond. Charles B. McCormack, borough president, announced yesterday that Mr. Nixon had accepted the appointment. Nixon is 58 years old. He was graduated from Annapolis in 1882 and was transferred to the construction corps in 1884. In 1890 he designed the battleships Oregon, Indiana and Massachusetts. He resigned from the navy to become superintendent of the shipyard in Philadelphia. He succeeded Croker as Tammany hall leader in November, 1901, retiring the following May.

HE HAD A BITE

From Answers, London

Officials, Mr. James establishment would be classed as a top shop, but as a matter of fact, the proprietor sells almost anything you might like to name from a bathchair to a rattle.

Now, recently, for the sake of advertisement, he hung as a sign outside his shop a large fishing rod, to the end of which was attached an artificial fish.

Late one night, when most good people were in bed, Robinson happened to be passing that way—none too steadily—and happened, moreover, to notice the artificial fish. He stopped, looked at it, then cautiously went to the door of the shop and gave a gentle knock.

No answer was forthcoming, so Robinson knocked again, and continued knocking until at last a window upstairs opened and Jones looked out.

"Who's there?" he asked.

"Hush!" said Robinson. "Don't make a noise. Come down as quietly as you can."

Greatly alarmed Jones listened to obey this summons.

"Now tell me what's the matter," he asked breathlessly as he opened the door.

"Sh. murmurs Robinson. Pull your line in quickly. You've got a bite!"

"The real cure for beauty is within the law."

Monday evening the Opera house comes forward with one of the most important offerings of the season, when the American Play company will present Margaret Illington, Bayard Veiller's absorbingly interesting human-interest drama, "Within the Law." "Within the Law" is a sincere, play, human and humorous and its world-wide popularity is to Mr. Veiller's unswerving fidelity to their every counterparts in real life in creating the characters that people this treasurable narrative of contemporary metropolitan conditions.

Miss Illington, is credited by Chicago critics with the most inspiring acting of her brilliant career. Her portrayal of the leading role, that of a young woman who, after serving three years in prison for a crime which she is innocent, attempts to establish herself among reputable people, but is "hounded" by the police, persecuted away from honest employment, and forced unwillingly into a life of crime. She develops into a daring woman of cleverness and ingenuity, becoming leader of a band of adroit malefactors who prey upon society at will, yet manage to avoid punishment for their criminal operations by remaining always within the law, although they employ the law's inequalities and technicalities to safeguard their illegal schemes. She avenges herself upon the new cause, her to be sent to prison when she was innocent, almost breaking her heart through his son and heir. Ultimately she falls in love with the young man and is restored to the place of society which is right.

"During vacation time I'd take on flesh very rapidly if I did not turn my attention to gold and riding. I take plenty of walkings—for there is nothing like fresh air for the voice, as well as the exercise. As soon as the season is over, I tie myself to our bungalow, which is located about 30 miles north of Minneapolis, where we have a tiny bit of ground which we call the farm. Every bit of that land is tilled and cultivated by myself, my only companions being my dear mother and sister, and Monarch, my bull terrier. After my morning's work on the farm, I have my who bath and rub down with alcohol. "The real cure for beauty is within the law."

CHICAGO MARKS

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Comprehensive reports indicating that the winter crop is in almost perfect condition acted

At a weight today on the price of wheat, and offset an early advance due largely to foreign buying here. The market closed steady, off to 14 1/2¢ up, compared with Wednesday night. Corn and oats both finished unchanged to 1¢ lower, and provisions, at 2 1/4¢ decline to a like advance.

Wheat at the start rose sharply, influenced by the fact that cable quotations were higher and that harvest returns to Argentina were poor. Besides, prospects were that receipt minated owing to cold, stormy weather. Strength, however, began to give out before midday. European purchasers not showing much eagerness after the market had scored a fair advance. Snow in Missouri favored a bearish reaction in wheat and oats; were advised to buy from virtually all parts of the winter crop belt asserting that the recent colder temperatures had been gradually toughening the plant so that a severe freeze might now be feared.

Adverse weather for the movement of corn brought about a temporary stampede of shorts. There was also a good deal of speculative buying credited to a prominent meat packer. Eastern demand, though, was limited and primary arrivals heavy. As a result gains were not held and the market in the and was noticeably weak.

were liberal and came for the most part from dealers on the long side of Provisions ruled quiet, but firm. The sustaining force appeared to be from commission orders based on the strength of the market for hogs.
